I am a flight attendant and I think allowing people to use cell phones on the plane is a crazy idea. In an emergency the first thing a person would do is try and contact their loved ones. Which means preparing the cabin and instructing people on evacuation would be no longer required by a flight attendant as no one would be paying the slightest bit of attention. Please do not let this happen. It will save lives.